Dear Etty Indriani and Cahyani Tunggal Sari,

The reviewers considered the revised version of your paper "Behavioral Finance: The Analysis of Investor Behavior Based on Belief and Feeling and The Investor Rationality towards LQ 45 Stocks" ask you to revise (rewrite) Introduction and Literature Review section (the text similarities were found).

We have to remind you that our company strictly follows the principles of scientific ethics, citing the works of other scientists and your previous works.

If you (Author A) copy a piece of text from another article (written by Author B), which already has a reference to another article (written by Author C), and the citation to Author B is not provided - this is the infringement of citation rules.

In this case, there are two options of correct citation:

1 - to refer to the article written by Author B and indicate that he refers to the work by Author C;

2 - to refer to the article written by Author C and describe his research by paraphrasing, without literal copying of the text, describe the investigation of Author C individually, in one's own words.

You can also use the direct quotes, so please, use inverted commas and references to the source.

Hence, we ask you to amend the text of your manuscript.

With best regards,

Dear Etty Indriani and Cahyani Tunggal Sari,
I am writing you in regards of your submitted paper "Behavioral Finance: The Analysis of Investor Behavior Based on Belief and Feeling and The Investor Rationality towards LQ 45 Stocks". Your paper was viewed by our experts.

"We have to remind you that our company strictly follows the principles of scientific ethics, citing the works of other scientists and your previous works.

If you (Author A) copy a piece of text from another article (written by Author B), which already has a reference to another article (written by Author C), and the citation to Author B is not provided - this is the infringement of citation rules.

In this case, there are two options of correct citation:

1 - to refer to the article written by Author B and indicate that he refers to the work by Author C;

2 - to refer to the article written by Author C and describe his research by paraphrasing, without literal copying of the text.

You can also use the direct quotes, so please, use inverted commas and references to the source.

Hence, we ask you to amend the text of your manuscript (please pay attention to all text till section 3. Methodology)”.

Also the presentation of the text in the paper must comply with the Submission Guidelines <https://businessperspectives.org/journals/investment-management-and-financial-innovations#submission-guidelines-for-authors>. Authors are encouraged to check the paper by self using any accessible plagiarism software.

With best regards,
Olga Vorozhko
